DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claims 15 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification fails to teach how to make an inflatable pillow in combination with a polymeric material liner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kvalvik. Kvalvik clearly discloses a bathtub matt assembly as claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 7-13 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kvalvik in view of Yang.

Kvalvik discloses all of the claimed limitation except for an outer cloth covering the polymeric main liner member. However, Yang teaches an analogous device having an outer cloth layer (16) on a polymeric liner member to enhance appearance.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ an outer cloth layer on the Kvalvik main liner member so as to improve the appearance of the product.

4. Claims 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kvalvik in view of Yang as applied to claim 12 above, and further in view of Taggart.

The device of Kvalvik is a single piece; however, to make it a single piece for multiple pieces connected together via hook and loop fastener as claimed is well known in the art as demonstrated by Taggart.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gonzalez and Guiste disclose other bathtub mat assembly having one or more feature of the instant invention.
